Description:

Metro Chimney can take care of all of your wood stove cleaning and maintenance needs. Many homes in Oregon have wood stove burning units in them as their main source of heat. Free Standing Wood stoves are the most common wood stove found. There are also Wood Stove Inserts, and Pellet Stoves (see below). The use of a wood stove requires proper cleaning yearly of the chimney to remove creosote deposits and regular inspection of the installation and handling of ashes. Woodstove pipes are smaller than your standard chimney flue and accumulate soot and creosote (Creosote is an inevitable by-product of burning wood, and is formed when wood smoke condenses on the inside of a cool chimney) buildup faster than a regular...
