Description:

Used since over 2,000 years, Roman Chamomile essential oil is extracted by the method of steam distillation of flowers growing on perennial shrubs. It mimics the scent of sweet apples and is used for many medicinal practices along with being used in the cosmetic industry. The oil embeds itself a strong anti-inflammatory property which help in treating many illnesses caused due to inflammation. Allergies, headaches, gastritis, menopause, herpes, sprains, migraines, etc., are some of these. It is also used to relieve anxiety and depression.
