Description:

Many schools, restaurants, universities, businesses, sporting & cultural institutions have been shut down for months. These measures were taken by global governments to enforce social distancing and flatten the curve. Even medical experts have been urging people to practice social distancing voluntarily. It was emphasized that everybody practices social distancing be it persons who have not been affected by the virus, those considered to be at high-risk, and those who are seriously ill. As this is not a drill, it is important to practice social distancing with video conferencing solutions. But, what is social distancing? Explained simply the idea of social distancing is maintaining a distance of at least six f
