Description:

Presently, chances of balding are impossible to guess. For example, the presence of balding in the mother or fathers side of the family does not always indicate an individual will experience Hair loss surgery. However, the chances of a male going bald are high if he winds up with a receding hairline before his thirties and happens to have a father who is balding. In this way, accurate predictions of balding, its rate, and its direction are difficult to make. The Forhair Clinic do our utmost to anticipate balding and plan procedures in accordance.
