Description:

If youre struggling with pain, this state of the art Harvard pain clinic is for you. At this modern and friendly clinic, you will be treated by a team of board certified Harvard pain doctors who are leaders in pain medicine. These pain experts avoid using risky and unnecessary surgery or narcotics. This is because surgery involves many complications and is often not necessary. Many orthopedic surgeons can be too quick to recommend surgery and narcotics as the only treatment route. However, surgery is often not necessary and can sometimes create more issues. Its important you understand the risks associated with invasive procedures and narcotics. Thats why this pain clinic promotes your health by using the latest...
