Description:

Aaron is a passionate and hardworking Realtor who has catapulted the discount real estate agent model into the mainstream. Aaron was inspired by his grandmother's grit, who worked long hours doing manual labor in a papermill in Maine. He attempted to follow in her footsteps but quickly realized he was nowhere near as tough as his grandma and decided to take a different path. However, his grandmother taught him the value of an honest day of hard work. After venturing into real estate as a career, he strived to offer better services to home buyers and sellers at lower rates than the competition. He provides clients with an exceptional buying and selling experience at lower fees without compromising service. In 20...
