Description:

Your Web Answer gives you complete guidance related to technology and digital marketing. In this topic, you know about which of the following is a benefit of display advertising over search advertising. One benefit of display advertising over search advertising is that display ads have a wider reach and are able to target a larger audience. With display ads, you can show your ads on a variety of websites, whereas search ads are typically shown only on search engine results pages, which limits the audience. Additionally, display ads can be more visually appealing and can include rich media like video and animation, which can help increase engagement and drive more conversions.
