Description:

Professionally and individually handcrafted in the USA, this pure carbon fiber the ring is a truly next-level look. Carbon fiber is the new age of functional, high-strength material; pound for pound, it's the strongest material on the market today, but its unique, unidirectional construction means that it's also extraordinarily lightweight - not to mention it offers a rare and captivating appearance. This particular ring boasts a contemporary flat band, a matte finish, and a composite colored underside, for an incredible touch of robust elegance that is bold, but still light, durable, waterproof, and hypoallergenic.
