Description:

This car is a low mileage head turner. People always start talking about it when I go places. I bought it from my brother in law in 2009. It had about 35,500 miles. It now has 38,791 so you can see how little we have used it. Only about 250 miles a year over the last three years. I love it, my wife doesn't really care to ride in it. Not enough opportunities to drive around by myself. We have stored it during the winters in a temperature controlled building. The car has never been driven in the snow. It is a weekend "touring" car.
